

How to Massage Demon's feet: A small and quick guide for all demon respecting devil summoners.

Hello, so you want to recruit some demons. You wouldn't have bought this book from your local Devil Summoning hang out! Well before you do so, you need to know the perfect things for negotiation. Knowing how to Massage a demon's feet is invaluable for any summoner.

If negotiations go well, you must understand that most demons are walking around the location in a circle waiting for some easy prey or waiting for the right summoner to treat them well, so their feet will be very sore and tired. A good foot massage can go a long way with you and the demon you just got jumped by!

How to know if the demon you are speaking to wants their feet massaged: If they already screaming at you and can speak English, tell them how good of a summoner you are and will take care of them. If they agree, then doing a foot massage will show your hospitality.

DO NOT GIVE PRETAS A FOOT MASSAGE, THEY WILL ASK FOR ONE EVERY HOUR OF THE DAY.

There are various techniques for massaging demon feet that can be used for relaxation and pain relief. Some common techniques include arch rubs, top and side circles, heel squeezes, and finishing strokes. Reflexology is another technique that involves applying pressure to specific points on the feet that correspond to different organs in the body. It's important to communicate with the demon receiving the massage to ensure that they are comfortable. Give them a life stone if they ask for one. Additionally, it's important to start massaging the soles of the feet by wrapping both hands around the foot and using your thumbs to apply pressure. Pay special attention to the arch of each foot, as this area tends to accumulate a lot of tension.

One technique for massaging the arch of the foot is arch rubs. To use this technique, hold the top of the foot in one hand and use a stroking motion down toward the heel. Repeat this several times. Another technique is to roll a water bottle under the bottom of your foot to massage your arch. Sit down in a chair and lay a full water bottle on the ground so it's perpendicular to your foot. Press your foot down on the water bottle and roll your foot back and forth on top of it. Apply light pressure first and start increasing it as you feel more relief. There is no specific frequency for massaging the arch of the foot, but it is generally recommended to massage the feet several times a day for at least 6 weeks to relieve pain and discomfort. It is also recommended to stretch the arch of the foot daily to keep it strong and free from injury. Additionally, it's important to apply light pressure first and start increasing it as the demon starts to feel more relaxed. They might give you a life stone for your troubles.

It is also important to practice good hygiene and safety measures, such as clipping nails and avoiding the spread of infections. Kissing feet or toe sucking can feel incredibly sensual, and feet and toes are sensitive to touch, however, it is important to note that any sexual activity should always involve consent from all parties involved. So, when the demon begs or demands, that is a sign to go right in for some kisses. Kissing the top of the foot is the best way to show a sign of respect for the demon.

Toe Sucking should only occur after cleaning the demon's feet with some water and cloth and the main bigger toes should be the first to be suckled.

Benefits of foot massages with your demons:

1. It allows them to walk in circles when killing the same demons repeatedly for longer without complaining.
